

Novellus Announces The Appointment Of John Chenault As Interim Chief Financial Officer

SAN JOSE, Calif., April 28, 2005 -- Novellus Systems, Inc. (Nasdaq NM: NVLS), today announced the appointment of John Chenault as interim Chief Financial Officer. Since joining the company in 1991, Chenault has served in a variety of executive management positions, including Executive Vice President of Business Operations and Executive Vice President of Worldwide Sales and Service. Chenault holds a bachelor's degree in Economics and a master's degree in Business Administration from Western Illinois University.

"I am pleased with John's appointment to this position because he has been instrumental in the company's growth and is committed to driving financial results," said Richard S. Hill, Chairman and Chief Executive Officer. "John is one of the most financially astute executives here at the company."

Kevin Royal, the departing Chief Financial Officer, has advised the company that he will be leaving to take the position of chief financial officer at an internet security company.

"We appreciate Kevin's contributions to Novellus and his years of service. We wish him well in his future endeavors," said Hill. "Kevin has developed a strong finance organization that will assist in a smooth transition and I'm looking forward to building upon that foundation," added Mr. Chenault.

"Safe Harbor" Statement Under the Private Securities Litigation Reform Act of 1995:
