

Lam Research Enters Into Accelerated Stock Buyback Agreement

FREMONT, Calif., April 20, 2017 (GLOBE NEWSWIRE) -- Lam Research Corp. (the "Company") announced that it has entered into accelerated stock repurchase agreements (each, an "ASR agreement") with BNP Paribas and Citibank, N.A. (the "Counterparties") to repurchase an aggregate of $500 million of the Company's common stock (NASDAQ:LRCX). The Company will acquire its common stock pursuant to the ASR agreements as part of its previously announced $1.0 billion stock repurchase program (and, with anticipated annual dividends, amounting to a $1.3 billion capital return program). The stock repurchase program is targeted to be completed within 12 to 18 months from the date of its announcement on November 18, 2016. Aside from repurchases under the ASR agreements, the remainder of the repurchases under the Company's repurchase program may be made, at management's discretion, in both public market and private transactions, are subject to certain limitations, and may include the use of financial contracts such as additional accelerated share repurchase agreements. Under the ASR agreements, the Company will make an aggregate upfront payment of $500 million to the Counterparties in exchange for approximately 2.6 million shares of the Company's common stock upfront. Thereafter, the daily volume-weighted average price of the Company's common stock less an agreed upon discount, during the term of the ASR, will be utilized to calculate a final repurchase price for the Company's common stock and any resulting settlement at the termination of the ASR, whether through delivery of additional shares to or from the Company, or a settlement in cash.
