Lam Research Names 2021 Supplier Excellence Award Recipients

FREMONT, Calif., Oct. 26, 2021 (GLOBE NEWSWIRE) -- Lam Research Corp. (Nasdaq: LRCX) today announced the honorees of its 2021 Supplier Excellence Awards. Selected from Lam's comprehensive portfolio of distinguished suppliers, the ten recipients of this year's awards demonstrated exemplary performance standards for scalability, resiliency and quality across three categories: General Excellence; Ramp Performance, for outstanding support of Lam's customer needs; and Rapid Prototype Manufacturing Performance and Excellence, for role modeling agility in support of product development.

The 2021 Supplier Excellence Award honorees are:

General Excellence Award

- Comet Plasma Control Technologies
- VALQUA, LTD.

Ramp Performance Award

- Amuneal Manufacturing Corporation
- Ferrotec Holdings Corporation
- KNT, Inc.
- Rapid Manufacturing
- Shimadzu Precision Instruments, Inc.
- Tokai Carbon Korea Co., Ltd.
- Venture International Pte Ltd.

Rapid Prototype Manufacturing Performance and Excellence Award

- Pacific Stainless Products, Inc.

The winners were announced at Lam Research's virtual Supplier Day event on Oct. 25, 2021. The annual event brings suppliers together to collaborate and identify new opportunities to power progress in the supply chain. Lam also plans to recognize its suppliers' sustainability achievements at its inaugural Environmental, Social, and Governance Forum in early 2022.

"We congratulate each of the recipients of our 2021 Supplier Excellence Award and thank them for their many contributions, dedication and commitment to driving excellence over the past year," said Tim Archer, president and chief executive officer of Lam Research. "The strength and agility of our supply chain partners provide critical support that enables Lam Research to produce the industry leading semiconductor equipment that is helping to define the future of technology."
